ARE YOU A REAL CHRISTIAN MOTHER?

Scripture Readings: Proverbs 31:10-30 and 2-Tiimothy1:1-11

Introduction: In this age of selfishness and materialism, we need to look at the virtues that present mothers as well as future mothers will do well to seek.

Sociologists, Psychologists, Psychiatrists, Law Enforcement Officers, Educators and Social Workers remind us repeatedly, of the importance of home, where there is tranquillity (Joy, peace and calmness). The influence of the home for good or bad, has been the subject of many books, countless articles and innumerable speeches.

While a family unit is made of a man, woman and children—the woman is at the Centre and the lives of others are good to the degree, to which the woman takes her calling seriously—making their welfare her major concern.

In the present century, mothers face number of complex problems & challenges, many of them were undreamed-of a short time ago. So, in light of what has been said so far, let us recognise the high call to Christian motherhood – in order to fulfil God's plan and purposes for our children.

Before I go further & deeper in the subject, let us hear the Views of THREE MOTHERS from our Church, around the two questions that I sent them.

What is Motherhood? Motherhood is far more than a biological role—it is a God-given calling to nurture life, shape character, and influence destiny. In Scripture, motherhood reflects God's own heart: love, sacrifice, guidance, protection, and spiritual formation.

 "As a mother comforts her child, so will I comfort you..." — Isaiah 66:13

A mother is often the first teacher, first intercessor, first example of faith, and first expression of unconditional love a child experiences. In today's world—marked by pressure, distractions, and shifting values—godly motherhood is more crucial than ever.
